

Joe Baker Draws Job Of Guarding The Big T"

The task of guarding Covington's Grant's high-scoring forward—Tommy Thacker—will probably fall to Hazard's Joe Baker, Coach Goebel Ritter revealed last night.

Baker, a stalwart on defense, kept Breathitt County's tall Doug Cundiff in hand in the regional, and has been a stand-out for the Bulldogs this past year on defense.

Thacker, averaging 25 points a game, is Covington's Grant's equivalent of Hazard Don Smith. A highly-touted, 18-year old sophomore, Thacker has been compared to the University of Cincinnati's All-American sophomore Oscar Robertson.

If J. Baker gets the defensive assignment against Thacker, then joining him in the starting line-up will be Smith, top scorer for Hazard this year with a 19.9 average for the season, at center; Bobby Baker, a point-getting guard with a 17 average, Ken Cobb, forward, and either Leon Hollon or Carlos Gibson.

Bob Hollon and Gibson turned in surprising performances in the regional. The two have alternated for the second guard post since early this year.

Ritter said yesterday following the Bulldogs last practice session that the team "has been very serious" this week.

"Now, all I need is four more victories." That's the number of wins it takes to bring home the bacon from Lexington.

The Bulldogs tee off tonight at 6:30 p. m., C.S.T., with Grant.

Depending on the source of your information, it's a toss-up as to which is the favorite.

Professional odds-makers in Lexington are giving the Ritter quintet a 3-point edge over the Northern Kentucky five. On the other hand, you have the word of the Lexington Dunbar coach who rates Grant the "best in the State." After edging Grant by one point in Lexington, the Dunbar five got dumped 87-55 in a return match played in Covington.

In any case, the contest promises to be one of the best of the tourney.

If Hazard slips past Grant, then the Bulldogs will run up against either Davies County or Benton in the quarter finals, Friday night, at 8:15 (CST). Davies is the pick of the Lit-Ratings to walk off with the crown.

Assuming the Bulldogs can get past Grant and Davies, the odds are strong for a re-match of Hazard and Clark County in a semi-final game Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Coach Letcher Norton's Winchester five owns a 70-61 victory over Hazard in a game played there. Clark County, incidentally, is being quoted by the professional odds-makers as the team to beat Lexington. They are 6-5 favorites. St. Xavier is 3-1, South Hopkins, Hazard and Davies County, 6-1, Grant and Dunbar, 8-1.

The Bulldogs will be making their 18th trip after a State Tourney crown. They first captured the tournament in 1932 under Pat Payne, beating Male 15-13, and then in 1955, a Ritter-coached five lead by Johnny Cox became the "sweetest of the Sweet Sixteen" by whipping Adair County, 74-66.

Here are the results of Hazard's past 17 ventures into the State Tournament:

In 1924 defeated Frankfort 20-18 in the first round, lost to Lexington 22-16 in quarter-finals; in 1925 lost to London 32-13 in first round; in 1926 lost to Lexington 40-21 in first round; in 1929 lost to St. Xavier 19-17; in

Closed Panel Plan Object Of Bill

The fear of "closed panel" medical service is the reason why the Kentucky Medical Association is backing Senate Bill 208, Dr. Charles Rutledge, local physician, told members of the Hazard Rotary Club yesterday.

Dr. Rutledge noted in remarks preceding his talk that he "was obviously speaking in behalf of the side in favor of the bill," and desired to clear up the "tremendous misinformation" about it.

(Senate Bill 208 would forbid in Kentucky any medical plans, excluding Blue Shield, which forbids the patient the right to choose his own doctor.)

Blue Shield, Dr. Rutledge told the luncheon club, was exempted from the bill by the Kentucky Legislative Research Commission, Frankfort, because Blue Shield is covered by another law which provides for of closed-panel medical facilities receive home, office and hospital care from hospital staff members only. While a patient may utilize the services of a private physician, he must do so at his own expense. An example would be a military hospital.)

Dr. Rutledge said that if closed panel medicine should be adopted by the U.M.W. hospitals it would mean several doctors, especially specialists, would have to leave Hazard and other Eastern Kentucky communities to make a living elsewhere.

He said: "The doctors feel that the future of the Miners Memorial would include closed panel." He explained: "On Oct. 15, the fund (UMW

Jail Inmate Trial Date Set

Flighty Wilgus Anderson, who has broken out of the Perry County jail on two occasions, was recaptured this week at Booneville, returned here, and will undergo trial March 26 for robbing a Yerkes school teacher.

The "fly-by-day or night" Anderson was returned to Perry County by Deputy Sheriff Luther Francis and Jailor Charlie Maggard, Monday afternoon, according to Perry County Sheriff Paul Amis.

Amis said the three others who broke jail with Anderson March 11 are still at large, but that the "net is gradually closing in" on them.

Anderson, Eugene Speneer, manslaughter and robbery, Aaron Thomas, breaking and entering, and Mack Wheeler, breaking and entering, escaped the Perry County jail using a bunk rail as a tool to open a hole in the wall.

Hamilton, Ohio, and placed in jail just two hours before he broke out last time.

Sheriff Amis said this week that a report that the other three were hiding in a mine at Combs proved false when investigated.

The county sheriff, however, expressed confidence that the three will be recaptured soon.

Funeral Held For Mrs. Henson

A native of Alabama, Mrs. Henson died at her home, Monday.

She is survived by her mother, and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Scott, and a brother, Mack Duff, Lexington. Maggard Funeral Home conducted services.

Valentine Blaze Result Of Arson

One or more unknown arsonists set fire to the Valentine restaurant, in Combs, State Trooper Lonnie Leach revealed last night.

Leach said that the Tuesday morning blaze is being attributed to arson in a report prepared by Don Bowling, Corbin, Department of Public Safety, Division of Fire Prevention.

The building, site of the slaying of Mrs. Lillie Valentine, last December, and the wounding of her son-in-law Paul Napier, burned to the ground early Tuesday morning.

Bowling was in town yesterday to investigate the cause of the fire.

Leach said last night the fire was apparently started from within the building. He noted that all doors and windows to the frame structure were locked and the electricity had been disconnected.

The fire was well underway when it was discovered by Bud Kilburn and Tom Woods, both of Combs. The two aroused people in the neighborhood by firing pistol shots into the air, Leach said.

Witnesses to the fire, according to Leach, said the flames were blazing through the center of the roof when it was discovered.

Woods, indicted by the last grand jury for the slaying of Mrs. Valentine, was cleared of charges in Perry Circuit Court, Monday, when the case was dismissed for insufficient evidence.

He was also cleared of shooting and wounding with intent to kill—a charge growing out of injuries suffered by Napier when someone fired two shotgun blasts late one Sunday afternoon in December. Mrs. Valentine, owner of the tavern, died instantly. Her son-in-law, injured by a second blast, is now paralyzed.

Still to be tried in the Valentine killing are Curtis Colwell, 19, and Elmer Kilburn, 20, both charged with murder and shooting and wounding with intent to kill.

Charges against Colwell and Kilburn were made March 11, when the investigation of the slaying by State Detective J. E. Combs and other law enforcement agencies turned up new evidence.

Colwell was already in jail then charged for breaking and entering when the murder charge was lodged against him. Kilburn was arrested near his home in Combs.

Mrs. Valentine and Napier were alone in the building at the time of the shooting. It was conjectured then that someone or more persons drove up to the door of the roadside tavern, fired the shotgun blasts, and then fled in their car.

Plans to reopen the tavern had been made by Mr. and Mrs. Napier as recently as Feb. 13 when he advertised of intention to apply for a retail beer license for Combs.

Tour of Ky. 15 Urged By State

For a leisurely jaunt into beautiful mountain scenery, we suggest a drive from Winchester on Kentucky Highway 15 to Whitesburg—about 160 miles. Or a drive along this road just to Slade, a 25-mile trip, offers a sight-seeing adventure. Near Slade are Kentucky Natural Bridge State Park and Sky Bridge in Cumberland National Forest. Both are surrounded by stately forests and wooded glens, primeval in appearance. On the way, near Clay City, is Pilot Knob, where Daniel Boone first regarded the Blue Grass. Beyond Slade, through Camp-ton, Jackson, Dwarf, Hazard and Whitesburg, the mountains rise in majesty, giving to the traveler the thrill of view and prospect. Ticking and Noodling YOU CAN'T tickle and noodle just anywhere and anytime in Kentucky. State law is very precise in limiting this activity. According to the Fish & Wildlife Department, here are the rules: Permitted only in Rolling Fork River and tributaries by bare hand, upstream above Highway Bridge 62 and in overflow waters of Hickman, Fulton, Carlisle and Ballard Counties from June 10 through July 20, creel limit, noon till noon, 15 rough fishes of which not more than five shall be catfishes. Tackling permitted during season in overflow waters of Hickman, Fulton, Carlisle and Ballard Counties. But otherwise, fishing's great in the State, and there's no closed season on fishing with rod and reel, pole and line, or trot line.

Ace in the Hole

KENTUCKY's ace in the hole to defeat recession, says Public Relations Commissioner G. M. Pedley, is "our State's great potential of tourist business." Noting that the tourist bonanza in 1957 hit a peak of 18 billion dollars, he says it has been estimated that Kentucky got in excess of 500 million dollars of this. He quotes authorities as saying the Commonwealth can attract 2 1/2 billion outside dollars a year from vacationers, tourists, expatriate Kentuckians returning home, conventioners, and commercial travelers. Governor Chandler's new Commission For Tourist Promotion, composed of leaders in all fields of endeavor, is working with the State Departments of Public Relations, Conservation and Economic Development to do a better job of inviting visitors and industry to Kentucky.

SCOTSMAN Mile-A-Thon contest!

You can win a handsome, full-sized Studebaker Scotsmen for your very own—and one for your favorite charity or organization. It's all part of the nationwide Scotsmen Mile-A-Thon Contest, March 16 to April 12. And it's easy—just three simple answers may bring you home a winner. And look at the prizes:
1st Grand Prize..... 2 Scotsmen Station Wagons
2nd Grand Prize..... 2 Scotsmen 4-door Sedans
3rd Grand Prize..... 2 Scotsmen 2-door Sedans
4th Grand Prize..... 2 Scotsmen 1/2-ton Pickups

Winners get two cars: to make the contest even more inviting, each Grand Prize Winner will receive not just one, but two cars!—one for yourself, one for your favorite charity or organization. And, if you've purchased a Studebaker or Packard during the contest, you'll receive your choice of the prize car or its retail delivered price in cash; your selected charity or organization will still receive the car.
All you do is estimate the highest miles per gallon figure attained by the Scotsmen 2-door Sedans, and by the Scotsmen Pickups, and then complete this sentence in 25 words or less—"Studebaker Scotsmen passenger cars and pickup trucks are America's all-around economy vehicles because—..."
To help you, a map shows the approximate routes of the two Scotsmen Mile-A-Thon caravans.
Your official Scotsmen Mile-A-Thon Contest entry blank, and a detailed set of contest rules, are yours for the asking from your local Studebaker-Packard dealer or they are available by mail. He'll be glad to give you complete information about the Scotsmen (a guest-drive, too) that will help you with your answer. No purchase required. Visit your dealer soon.

Here's how the SCOTSMAN Mile-A-Thon will run:

Two caravans, each consisting of a Scotsmen 2-door Sedan and the all-new Scotsmen 1/2-ton Pickup, will crisscross the country to form an "X" on the map. All you do is estimate the highest miles per gallon figure attained by both types of Scotsmen vehicles participating, and complete the required 25-word statement. And, that's all you do! This contest is not open to any person residing in any locality where such contest is not permitted under applicable state or local regulations.

Gabbard, Bailey Exchange Vows In Ceremony At Bowman Memorial

The marriage of Miss Tommy Gabbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Gabbard of Hazard, to Mr. Earl R. Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Bailey, also of Hazard, was solemnized at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, March 9th at the Bowman Memorial Methodist Church. The Rev. William F. Pottus officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The vows were exchanged before a background of emerald foliage with baskets of white gladioli and lighted white tapers in brass candlebras on either side.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mr. J. M. Daniel of Lexington at the organ and Mrs. Ben Rose, vocalist, who sang "Calm as the Night," "I Love Thee," and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown lace and a squared scalloped neckline, and designed along princess lines with a draped bodice. Long sleeves tapered to points over the hands and were fastened at the wrists by tiny covered buttons. The puff back of the gown terminated into a circular chapel train. Her finger tip veil of matching bridal illusion was held by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Miss Ramona Gabbard was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a Nile green street length frock of silk organza over matching taffeta, fashioned with soft draped folds at the low rounded neckline and short cap sleeves. Floating folds of the organza fell from the low waistline at the back. Her halo hat was matching velvet with a circular veil of matching illusion and pearl embroidery. Completing the ensemble were short white gloves. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations.

The bridesmaids were Misses Beatrice Smith and Miss Margie Wilder, both of Hazard. They wore frocks identical to that of the maid of honor and also carried cascade bouquets of yellow carnations.

Melvin Earl Clutts of Hazard was the ring bearer.

Mr. James H. Bailey served his son as best man.

Seating the guests, were David Begley, French Colwell, James R. Womble, Carroll Wilson, and Jerry Hoskins all of Hazard.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gabbard chose a street length dress of blue printed lace with matching accessories. Her corsage was white roses.

The mother of the groom wore a street length dress of blue silk with matching accessories. Her corsage was white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor. A three-tiered cake surrounded by white mums and topped with a miniature bride and groom and flanked by white tapers in silver candelabras decorated the bride's table which was covered with a lace cloth. Assisting in the serving were Mesdames Anne York, Melvin Clutts, David Begley, and Miss Dicy Callahan.

For her going-away outfit, the bride chose a suit of black imported wool broadcloth with matching accessories and a corsage of white roses. After a wedding trip to Daytona Beach, the couple will reside in the Snyder Apartments in Hazard.

The bride is a graduate of Hazard High School and is employed by the Kentucky Power

Handling The Word Deceitfully

By A. C. Grider

One of the plainest cases of a deceitful handling of the word of God that has ever come to my attention is the denominational handling of Paul's statement in 1 Cor. 1:17. Here Paul said, "Christ sent me not to baptize but to preach the gospel." Sectarian Preachers reason (?) from this statement that baptism is no part of the gospel and hence not essential to salvation.

Now let's just follow Paul around awhile and see what he thought about baptism. I will list and number some things for your consideration:

1. Paul (himself) was baptized to WASH AWAY HIS SINS. Acts 22:16.
2. Lydia heard Paul preach and was baptized immediately. Acts 16:14-15.
3. Paul taught the jailor and baptized him the same hour of the night. Acts 16:33.
4. Christus the Chief Ruler was baptized by Paul. 1 Cor. 1:14.
5. Paul baptized some others. 1 Cor. 1:16.
6. Corinthians heard Paul preach and were baptized. Acts 18:8.
7. Paul taught John's disciples to be baptized. Acts 19:1-5.
8. Paul said he baptized into Christ Gal. 3:27.
9. Paul said he baptized into the death of Christ. Rom. 6:3.
10. Paul said he raised from baptism to walk a new life. Rom. 6:4.
11. Paul said baptism was a planting in the likeness of Christ's death. Rom. 6:5.
12. Paul said God operates on us in baptism. Col. 2:12.
13. Paul said we are baptized into the body of Christ. 1 Cor. 12:13.

Now, does ANYBODY think baptism is no part of the gospel? Of course Paul wasn't sent to baptize but to preach. I went to West Virginia to PREACH, not to baptize. But the PREACHING resulted in people wanting to obey Christ. Hence I baptized them. Paul went to Corinth to PREACH; not to baptize. But his PREACHING resulted in people wanting to be baptized. Hence he baptized them.

How about this? You can't be a Baptist without baptism. Now, if baptism is UNNECESSARY, then making Baptists is unnecessary! If baptism is a nonessential act, then making Baptists is a nonessential act! If baptism is no part of the gospel, then denominationalism just won't stand the test.

Be sure to attend services at the Lohr Church of Christ Sunday and talk to the brethren concerning any question you may have. They will be glad to help you to understand any verse of scripture.

TRUTH-AD By WINN T. BARR FOR THE UNCHURCHED

Would you do me a favor? Get your dictionary and look up the word "for." You will find that it can mean "because of," or "on account of." Baptism for remission in Acts 2:38 can mean baptism because of remission. When you take all of the teaching of the Bible together, you will see that it means baptism because of remission. It has to fit in with other verses in the Bible. The purpose of baptism is not to save, but to show salvation. We enter God's family by repenting faith.

The good NEWS belongs in the NEWSpaper, but also LOOK in the BOOK it comes from, and SEARCH for the CHURCH that obeys that book most fully.

View That Satisfies All The Scriptures

1. Conversion (repentance, faith, and calling on the Lord) brings eternal life, (a righteous standing, nature, and destiny).
2. Eternal life brings good works (of which baptism is only one among many).
3. Works bring rewards at Christ's return (according to their number and degree of love).

Look for a TRUTH-AD every Thursday.

World-Wide Program Started

A small-town church in Kentucky has started its own world-wide people-to-people program. Under the supervision of two local physicians and several nurses, the Moore Memorial Presbyterian Church of Pineville, Kentucky, sends thousands of dollars worth of drugs and medicines each month to isolated spots throughout the world where they are urgently needed.

Here is how the program works: At regular intervals, the church sends a corrugated paper box to each of the state's 2,300 doctors. The doctors are asked to fill the boxes with samples of drugs and medicines left by detail men of pharmaceutical companies. Each box costs about 94 cents for a round trip through the mails. Overseas mailing costs up to $2.50 p. r. box.

Church officers estimate that for each dollar spent in collecting and mailing the boxes, approximately $200 worth of drugs and medicines can be made available to medical missionaries and others in lonely outposts where access to medicine and medical care through ordinary channels is difficult or impossible.

The drugs are carefully labeled and instructions for their use translated into the appropriate languages before they are shipped. They are made available according to need, without reference to race or religion.

Church officials emphasized that their program is supplementary to relief programs already instituted by drug companies and pharmacists' groups. They said funds for future shipments and for extending their program to other states were urgently needed.

A freshman girl from one end of Kentucky and a senior boy from the other have been named as Pikeville College's 1958 May Queen and King. Page, college president, announced today.

Four other women, runners-up to Miss Webb in student voting for the honor, will attend her at her coronation. They will be escorted by four young men who came closest to Page in the election.

The attendants will be Verla Sue Bartley and Rebecca Jo Stevens, both of Pikeville; Toby Ann Bussey, David, and Shirley Rowe, Feds Creek.

They will be escorted by Smallwood; John Lee Butcher, Pikeville; Jimmy D. Gray, Alfien; and Pete Lewis, Ransom.

Smallwood, the only Knott Countian in the May Court, is a junior at Pikeville. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smallwood, Sassafras, he is a 1955 graduate of Carr Creek High School, where he was senior-class president and captain of the Carr Creek Indians basketball team. A high-scoring member of the Pikeville College Hearing tests, lip reading classes and other help for hard-of-hearing children are part of the service program of the Easter Seal Society—the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children. Above, John Brannon tests a youngster at the UK Audiology Clinic in Lexington, which is partially supported by Easter Seal funds. The Kentucky Society will open a new hearing center in Louisville in the coming weeks to serve school age children who live too far from Lexington to receive services there. The Easter Seal appeal began March 10 and ends April 6.

Bears for two seasons, he was kept off the basketball court most of last fall by a succession of illnesses, and only returned to form in time to see brief action in some of the season's last games.

Boys, it looks like the WALLEYE run has run into a snag. Many of you have had your gear packed for several days. I know mine has been ready. Many of you have already made the trek to the WALLEYE run, Earl Parsons reports a nine pounder. This kid, I didn't get his name, will, I am sure long remember this trip, because folks, he was home on a leave from UNCLE SAM'S ARMY. I am sure this must have been a great thrill for him. Yes, a diversion from the routine of life that he had been living. Folks, that is fishing regardless of your age, or occupation you might follow, I would say that fishing is the most relaxing of all sports. Many of you might be grieving over the lost PIKE RUN, just perk up and remember that there will be the White Bass run, maybe the Crappie run, then bass fishing. So just don't get too disappointed because you have missed the WALLEYE run. Blue Gill and Sun Fish can while away hours for me as long as I am on some body of water. If I was hungry for fish I would go to the market for them because it would be much cheaper. I go to fish for the relaxation, to be in the great outdoors, trying to absorb some fresh air and sunshine. To marvel at the great works of a Creator. To watch things grow, to observe so many things of nature, you even to watch a colony of ants at work. Or the bumble bee, along with other bees, butterflies and so many other insects of nature that get so busy during the spring months when our first flowers become a reality. Take inventory of all the things that God has placed upon this earth for you to make the most of then really enjoy them.

IT'S IN THE AIR

Yes folks, spring is in the air, because many of you have already planted that lettuce and mustard patch, along with few cabbage, onions. Because you know that there can't be too much damaging weather to hurt this type of plantings. Believe me, will it taste good eating that first mess of any thing that you have grown. I could be like a lot of you, I could be rushing the season a little, I declare I am ready for it. I have always heard that when you had a very bad winter that when it did break, you could look out for a good farming season. Without a doubt, if the signs are right, this should be it. Confound if I can ever get a chance to spade up my two by four garden. It either rains or it snowing. I don't understand how so many of you have already told me that you have planted at least two sacks of taters.

GOOD TO HEAR

From you Mrs. Louie Evans, 67, up Lothair way, glad to know that you like to read after this column, also glad to learn some more history in regard to who my kin folks are. It is too bad that our people didn't keep, or write a book in regard to who they were kin to. I am sure glad to learn that just who is who, maybe one of these days some one will have the energy

Lewis and Richard Collins, Eminent State Historians

By Charles F. Hinds

If one name stands out above all Kentucky historians, it is the name, Collins—Lewis and Richard, father and son.

Judge Lewis Collins was born in 1797 in Fayette County, the son of a Revolutionary soldier. His parents died when he was still a boy, forcing the youth to go to work as a printer's apprentice in Paris, Kentucky, at an early age. At the age of sixteen or seventeen, he helped David V. Hannells found the Washington Union, a North Kentucky newspaper. In 1820 he became publisher and editor of the Maysville Eagle, a post he held with the exception of a two-year period until succeeded by his son, Richard, over twenty years later. He published in 1847 a remarkable source book on Kentucky history entitled Historical Sketches of Kentucky. From 1851 to 1855 he was judge of Mason County. When he died in Lexington in 1870, the Kentucky Legislature, then in session, mourned the passing of Lewis Collins as one of the state's outstanding historians and citizens.

Richard Collins, the son of Judge Collins, was born over his father's printing office in Maysville in 1824. He attended a local school in the town of his birth and was graduated from Centre College in 1842 and from Transylvania Law School in 1846. He was editor of the Maysville Eagle for ten years and, later, the founder of the Danville Review. He practiced law in Maysville and Cincinnati and lived the last twenty-five years of his life in Covington and Louisville. On New Years Day of 1888, he died suddenly in Marysville, Missouri, while visiting one of his daughters, Mrs. Silas Craig of that city.

Richard Collins published in 1874 the monumental two-volume work known as Collins' History of Kentucky, based, with revisions and additions, on his father's Historical Sketches issued some twenty-seven years earlier. This work, executed with great care, consists of an annals section, a short history of the Commonwealth, a history of Kentucky by counties, and a wealth of statistical, biographical, and historical information, difficult, if not impossible, for later historians to find elsewhere.

Shortly after his death, the Kentucky Legislature purchased the excellent library belonging to Richard Collins. That library today is a small to trace all our ancestors. Maybe it won't go as far back as the monkey tree business.

Also to you Mrs. Vara England, of Kansas City, Mo. She recalls the days that she resided here in Hazard before there was any side walks and streets. She was really surprised a couple of years ago when she visited here again. She happens to be some more of my kin folks' sister-in-law. Vara, it's funny you are not the only one that has ever been in these mountains that hasn't thought of them many times. From the many people I talk to and hear from they can always like yourself recall so many things that happened to them during their stay in our area.

To you Jesse Denham, it was nice seeing you on your visit back in Hazard. Jesse has retired from the railroad, now living in Lexington. He said I just have to come back now and then where they best people on earth live. To you Jess Collins, thanks for the Polk of Hore Hound candy that you fetched. It was good. I even introduced it to some of my neighbor kids, they liked it also. Been a long time since I have seen any of it. I can recall the days when, the old folks use to make a cough syrup from it. Folks, it's a funny thing to me that now and then you will see some Co. start making the old time things again, such as the candy I mentioned, old clay smoking pipes, cast iron kettles, coffee grinders. They may not be right up to what the originals were. Ho me, it represents one thing, that in some mind in one of these factories of what ever they are making. I would say the idea came from some one working there that never forget his raisin.

NEVER BEEN ACCUSED

To you Mr. L. D. Campbell, no I was never accused of being a farmer, although I have broken up several clods of dirt in my life time, also a few hoe handles, I recall that one hoe handle I broke didn't break closer enough to the hoe, just about half way. I had to hoe the rest of the season with that one. I felt like I was the hunch back from Norte Damo before that season was over. I just about had to get on my knees at times. I was at the age then of a big long legged gangling boy that would do any thing to get out of work.

Thanks to you Podgo Moore in regard to your comments to this column. Podgo states that he came to Perry County to fill his barrel, then retire to some other area. This I have found so many that have tried the same thing, Podgo. My suggestion would be regardless of where you make your abode, or try to fill your barrel, leave a little of it behind you in the community that you are trying to make your stake in, because remember that the next generation is following along in your foot steps. Why not try to leave some thing to give them a start on. Such as our forest, streams and all other things that God placed upon this earth for us to use wisely. I am speaking of the changes I have seen since I was a kid running up and down these river banks, when then our streams were clear, never heard of the word pollution. I hope to see them run clear again.

CLAFIN, KAN., CLARION: "The way to find out how many folks read the hometown paper thoroughly is to make a mistake or print something which can easily be misconstrued. Newspaper folk are human—they try to satisfy but mistakes do creep in."

SANTA PAULA, CALIF., DAILY CHRONICLE: "Is there too much debt? Who knows how much 'too much' is? As far as the private debt is concerned, the soundness of the debt structure simply depends on the soundness of the individual loans. Even if there were no debt whatever in existence it would be still unsound for a merchant to extend credit to a poor credit risk."

DUNN, N. C., RECORD: "The idea of the century comes from Bill France, founder and president of NASCAR, the National Association for Stock Cars, who journeyed to Washington at the close of the year to lay before The President's Committee for Traffic Safety a program for licensing automobile drivers as realistically as airplane pilots."

"Mr. France, whose goal is 'to make highway travel as safe as a ride on a merry-go-round,' pointed out to The President's Committee the folly of testing drivers on quiet streets at 25 mph and expecting that this could qualify them for handling cars under present highway traffic conditions and at speeds of 40, 50, 60 and 70 mph."

NEW PHILADELPHIA, OHIO, DAILY TIMES: "The communist world does a great deal of blatant advertising of its alleged charms for the masses of humanity..."

"In a recent CBS interview, Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin... said that every day 300 to 500 East Germans cross into West Berlin as refugees. Since 1950 the stream has mounted to more than one million. If Communist lands are such a magnificent haven for humanity, why don't people stay? You'll never see the answer to that in the Kremlin's ads."

BEDFORD, IND., DAILY TIMES-MAIL: "Education is the most selfish thing in the world. The only person who can give it to you is you. Teachers can lead, suggest, cajole, even browbeat, but they can't make you learn. That you do alone."

Story Of Jimmy Burt Tolliver Is Grim Reminder Of Cancer

How many of you remember a youngster by name of Jimmy Burt Tolliver. I'm sure the basketball fans hereabouts remember him. He was a whiz for Whitesburg in 1951, the year the Yellowjackets took third place in the State Tournament.

A forward, Jimmy was the Yellowjackets top scorer and was selected to the All State team. Although small, he could hit from just about any place on the floor.

Following graduation, he scholarshiped to Eastern, where his basketball career came to an abrupt halt when he injured a leg.

The son of Millard Tolliver, principal of Breathitt County High School, Jimmy finished up at Eastern and enrolled in the University of Louisville Medical School to become a doctor. He was one of the top students in his class.

We say was because Jimmy is no longer attending school. Just recently, he was told by doctors that he has cancer. It's guesswork how much longer he has to live. He is now under treatment and the word of his physicians is hardly encouraging.

An outstanding youngster in many ways he easily could qualify as the All-American boy. He doesn't smoke, has never taken a drink, is courteous and a gentleman.

Jimmy is but one of thousands of cancer patients. And his story is a grim reminder of the need for contributing to the American Cancer Society.

Appeal Made To Halt Threat Of Rabies Here

I can't help but wonder if the public and city and county officials are going to wait until rabies break out in Hazard, or do something now.

There are hundreds of dogs in and around this city, a great number of which have had no rabies shot. Must we wait until someone is bitten and dies before we do something about this condition?

If I had an actual count of dogs in Hazard yards, no one would believe the facts. I am a railroader and work in Hazard yards from 7:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. I can count fifteen to twenty five dogs any day during my turn of duty of eight hours. These dogs are not well kept or well fed.

This condition not only exists in Hazard yards but in other sections of our city and outlying communities. Can't something be done about this before it is too late and we are all sorry?

Favorable Comments Received On Herald

Dear Editor:

I would like to reply to a letter of Euelah J. Rudy in your issue of March 13, 1958.

I am not speaking from the viewpoint of a reporter, but that of an individual; an avid reader of The Herald. I am not writing in retaliation, but in defense of our paper.

I feel that The Herald has improved greatly, and that a great effort on Mr. Luigart's part has been made to get news reported for each paper. I believe he is very interested in the progress of our local paper and our county as well as the Nolans.

Do you know? I never realized our front page didn't have real news on it. It is news for us, and the sports are something we are proud of. I would think the 14th regional has done better because of the publicity in the paper.

We also realize here in our hills that "The Hazard Herald" is a local paper and leaves the National News to other papers.

I feel like the proverbial first grader in this view. I may feel differently after leaving the school room if I am in the first grade and it's amazing how a person can feel after he leaves his old home town.

I appreciate what The Herald is doing, especially the articles on Juvenile Delinquency, which is close to all of our interests.

I always enjoy reading the news from various communities. Since the deaths are usually included in these columns, I can't see the use of repetition in an obituary column. Of course the same would apply to the births.

I might state in closing that I have relatives in Ohio, that wouldn't miss an edition of The Herald for anything.

This is strictly a viewpoint from a reader.

Sincerely Yours,

RAYMOND A. FIELDS, Sr.

Buian, Kentucky.

Communism Borrows From Capitalism

The totalitarian countries are always critical of what is often termed the "decadent capitalism" of the United States. But, on occasion, they will borrow American ideas and techniques with enthusiasm.

Last September, a Grand Fair was held in Zagreb, Yugoslavia. One of the exhibits, made possible by cooperation between our government and private enterprise, was a U. S.—style supermarket. It was the kind of market all Americans take for granted, but it was as new and marvelous as space travel to the people of Yugoslavia. More than a million of them visited the display, and it was a smash hit by any standard.

After the fair closed the market was sold to the Yugoslavia commercial enterprise called "Vracar." This spring it will be opened for business in Belgrade, Yugoslavia's capital, and will be the first self-service store in that city. An American chain store executive will go there to supervise its setting up, equipping and stocking.

This is symbolic of the superiority of American retailing to that in the vast majority of other nations. What is true of this supermarket is true of department stores, variety stores, and the other American retail outlets. People abroad for the most part, just haven't seen anything to compare with them. When foreigners come to this country for the first time they are almost always amazed by the variety of goods offered in our stores—and by the fact that most of these goods are within the means of the average family.

Here and There

Between 1932 and 1956 the federal government's tax collection increased from less than $2 billion to more than $72 billion. At the same time, Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Inc. points out, the government extended the application of its taxes to almost every kind of tax resource, the only major exceptions being the property tax and general sales tax.

The New York Times quotes Dr. Howard A. Rusk as saying that this year about 500,000 Americans will enter into retirement. More than 14,000,000 men and women have reached the widely accepted retirement age of 65, and their number is increasing by more than 400,000 a year.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks has appealed for extension of the reciprocal trade program in line with Administration requests. He states that the jobs of more than 4,500,000 Americans depend on international trade and that "it's either more trade or more trouble."

Some American steamship companies are working toward construction of nuclear-powered merchant ships within five years.

The most recent government estimate says that the federal highway program will cost $37,622,000,000. This is a $10 billion above the figure given at the time Congress voted the program.

A House subcommittee has totaled up more than 100 commercial activities in which government-owned or operated business competes with private business.

Automation may have its advantages but it is causing a major problem in the field of medicine, according to an article in The Journal of the American Medical Association by Dr. Robert H. Barnes. More and more people are tending to become overweight as a result of our new sedentary life which provides more leisure time with less heavy physical work.

THE HAZARD HERALD, HAZARD, KENTUCKY
Thursday, March 20, 1958

MRS. JOHN S. COOPER WRITES:

Luncheon At White House Is Thrilling Experience For All

I don't think there is anyone in this country who doesn't get a thrill in the thought of going to the White House. Today, Mrs. Eisenhower gave her annual luncheon for the Senate Ladies which we have been looking forward to with much anticipation.

Belle Clay Morton came to get me and we arrived in a flurry of March snow at the front portico of the White House right on the dot of 1 o'clock. The Marine Band in their scarlet coats were seated at the right of the door and their excellent music made everyone feel lively right from the start. We all assembled in the East Room which is the ballroom. It is a very large and beautiful room with white walls, two brown marble fireplaces at either end and very fine yellow brocade curtains. After a few minutes, we formed a line and were greeted by Mrs. Eisenhower in the Green Room, which is the first room off the ballroom. Mrs. Eisenhower looked extremely charming in an emerald green dress which harmonized with the St. Patrick's motif of the luncheon. We then proceeded through the Blue Drawing Room and the famous Red Room to the dining room which was gaily decorated in green and silver. There were 19 tables seating 5 ladies each, while Mrs. Eisenhower's table, with the ranking Republican and Democratic wives, was in the center of the room. Among those at her table were Mrs. Knowland, at her right, Mrs. Lyndon Johnson, at her left, Mrs. Seaton, wife of the Secretary of the Interior, Mrs. Saltonstall of Massachusetts and Mrs. Bridges of New Hampshire.

I couldn't see the decorations at Mrs. Eisenhower's table but I know what was on ours and very pretty it was, too. There was a May pole of different shades of green ribbons placed on a large green shamrock, and each of us was given a corsage of green carnations tied with green ribbon and a tiny shamrock in the bouquet.

I thought you might be interested in what we had to eat. The first course was thick tomato consommé, very hot and cold, served with crackers and celery and olives. The second course was sliced breast of turkey with asparagus (tips underneath), covered with Mornay cheese sauce and beets and rolls. The third course was crisp Kentucky bibb lettuce with french dressing and the dessert was vanilla ice cream with maple syrup sauce. Music was played all through lunch, including a medley of lively Irish tunes.

After lunch we went back to the ballroom for coffee and in about 15 minutes Mrs. Eisenhower said goodbye to us and the party was over, so I came right home to write you about it.

Last Tuesday, at the Red Cross class, something very unexpected and wonderful happened to me. I was asked to be this year's chairman for the Senate lunch that the Senate Ladies give annually in honor of Mrs. Eisenhower. The chairmanship goes one year to a Democrat and one year to a Republican and the chairman of the luncheon chooses the committees. I'll tell you about this lunch and how it is planned in another letter.

Happy St. Patrick's Day.

Closed Panel Object of Bill

Hospital Fund) discontinued using certain non-UMW hospitals in Kentucky, including the Mt.
Mary.
"Elsewhere, they have cut off some private physicians from their staffs," He noted that no doctor in Hazard had been eliminated from the staff.

The Hazard physician said the mountains have already lost several physicians which are not being replaced. They have left he said because of the "uncertainty" involved in practicing the region.

He said that most Eastern Kentucky physicians must look to the beneficiaries of the fund to earn a living in this region.

He estimated that roughly 25 percent of the region's population is served by the fund.
"Of the other 75 percent," Dr. Rutledge continued, "at least 40 percent are charity cases and are not able to pay their hospital and doctor bills."
